CITY OFFICIAL PAPER.

FRIDAY JULY 3, 1907

Among the bills passed within a month by the board of supervisors, our readers will notice a claim for postage stamps. Postage is a necessary adjunct of any governmental body, or of any business for that matter, whether public or private. No doubt a large number of stamps are needed in the transaction of the business of Amador county. The bill for this item foot up between $20 and $30 monthly. This means from 1200 to 1500 two-cent stamps used on an average each month. This will give an average of $1 or fifty stamps per working day. The offices of tax collector, clerk, school superintendent, assessor and recorder must use postage liberally. We do not say, or wish to intimate, that the amount is needlessly heavy, but we call attention to this matter particularly on account of the manner in which the bills for postage are presented to the board of supervisors. Formerly it was customary for the treasurer to put in the bills. The stamps are obtained through his office. But he naturally did not take kindly to being charged with the whole amount, as many got the idea that he was personally using the full amount. Then the present method was inaugurated, namely of putting in the bill in the name of county officers. No individual official is mentioned, but the bill is allowed for all of them bunched together as "county officers, postage, $25." If the former method was objectionable and illegal, the new way is equally so; indeed it is more indefinite and objectionable. As it reads the claim comes from no one in particular. The law on this point says:

Sec. 4071. No county officer shall, except for his own services, present any claim, account or demand for allowance against the county, nor in any way advocate the relief on the claim or demand made by another.

If an individual county official is prohibited under the law from presenting a claim, it follows as a logical conclusion, that the officials collectively have no authority to do so. There are sound reasons for this restriction. To permit officials to be interested in, or present claims individually or collectively, would tend to abuses. An expert employed in one of the northern counties to investigate the books, found that the treasurer had been presenting a claim for postage stamps, and in his report he contended that the practice was illegal, and should not be tolerated. The taxpayers would like to know more definitely how this mass of postage stamps is distributed, and fasten upon each officer his particular share of the burden. It must be remembered that the amount does not include postal cards, which are usually obtained by the printer, and the cost thereof included in his printing bill. This amounts to considerable in course of the year.

The whole nation is amazed at the revelations of corruption in connection with the municipal government of San Francisco. But the stricken city of the bay does not monopolize the graft business. Probably nearly every county government would be found more or less tainted with the same spirit. We believe a thorough investigation by a grand jury not afraid of work, and uninfluenced by any other desire than the public weal might find a profitable field in Amador county.

As an almost invariable result of a change in the office of assessor, there is considerable dissatisfaction with the present assessment valuations. Many changes have been made, nearly all in the direction of swelling the roll. This has been done by the official for the purpose of equalizing the valuation. No matter how laudable the motive, any attempt to distribute the burden of taxes more equitably will surely raise a storm. It is a mistaken notion also that an increase of the assessment means a lowering of the tax rate. The history of Amador county is a sufficient refutation of this notion. We had two-thirds of the property values 20 years ago, and the rate per $100 was less than now. The outcry—born of the socialistic element—raised during the political campaign against corporations not bearing their fair share of taxation, should be given little weight. Whatever may be said of corporations that are paying regular dividends, and likely to continue to do so for many years, the case of mining companies is of an entirely different character, and should be so treated for assessment purposes. If the socialist doctrines are directed against the mining companies, and carried into practice it will prove the greatest calamity that this county has experienced. It is not progress, but retrogression. It is all very well for fly-by-nighters to preach socialism, and practice the same by getting out of Amador as soon as their aspirations for office are blighted, but those who have property interests at stake take a very different view of the situation.

Acknowledgment blanks for notaries, specially printed for Amador county, may be had at the Ledger office. Price 50c per packet of 50.

Souvenir Postal Cards.

W. H. Greenhalgh has just had printed, under authority of the board of supervisors, 10,000 souvenir postal cards, for free distribution at the national meeting of teachers in Los Angeles next week. The cards were forwarded to Los Angeles early this week. They represent ten views of Amador county scenery, including the power plant at Electra, Kennedy mine, Keystone mine, Fremont mine and hoist, a logging team, Commercial hotel at Lone, W. M. Amick's residence and orange trees, birdseye view of Jackson, and others. One thousand cards of each kind were printed. The object is to attract attention to this favored section of California, in the hope for drawing some share of immigration. This is merely a first effort in this direction. It should be followed up by other efforts. What is needed is a pamphlet, illustrated with suitable cuts, setting forth the facts concerning Amador. We are not gathering population because we are doing nothing to that end. We are content to remain listless and indifferent, while others are working like beavers, and getting away with the prizes. A fair and concise statement of what the home-seekers can get here would help materially in the upbuilding of Amador county.

It is not within the power of the county supervisors or the city fathers, by a simple notice signed by them, to give permission for a violation of any ordinance duly passed by them. It shows a lamentable weakness to make any attempt to that end. City trustees cannot temporarily hold up an ordinance, and say the people are authorized to violate between certain specified hours. Ordinances can only be amended or changed by another ordinance, passed in legal form. It brings local government into contempt for the lawmakers to say the provisions of their law can be ignored for a certain period. The "now it's law, and now it isn't" proposition is a new wrinkle in local government.

Mrs. A. York was taken very sick last Friday at her home at Butte City. She has been unconscious most of the time since. Word was received to-day that she is in a very critical condition, with little hope of her recovery.

The Fourth In Jackson

Jackson celebrated the fourth in a quiet way yesterday. Withal it probably gave more real pleasure to those present than many a more pretentious demonstration in honor of the national birthday witnessed in the past. It was intended as a home affair—to afford some enjoyment to the stay-at-home crowd. And as such it was an unqualified success. The affair was under the management of the Jackson social and athletic club and the Union Bank. Subscriptions amounting to something over $100 had been collected from citizens to provide prizes to be contested for in the various amusements, which were the exclusive attractions of the day. Literary exercises, procession, oration, were conspicuously absent. The Jackson band discoursed music, and this was the sum total in that line. There were few from outside the township, but the city and its surroundings are ample to turn out an imposing crowd of pleasure seekers.

The fun commenced in the afternoon at the baseball grounds of the club beyond the Zella mine. Here a ball game was played between the Jackson team and a nine from Lone. There was also blue rock shooting for various prizes near by. In the ball game the Jacksons won, after a hard battle, with a score of 4 to 3. The event of throwing the hammer was decided at on the ball ground, C. Dalporto succeeded in pitching it the furthest, and took the prize of $5. There was a big attendance to witness these sports.

The baseball score was:

A greased pig was turned loose, a prize for the one who succeeded in catching him. There was an exciting run, the brute being manled badly by the pursuers in the excitement of trying to hold him. He was finally captured by an Austrian whose name we could not learn.
Fireworks on Main street was the diversion of young and old alike up to 11 o'clock at night, and a few bombs were exploded after that hour. Early in the evening the dry grass in Jones field was set on fire by a descending skyrocket. It burned over fifty feet or more, but did no particular harm. The alarm of fire was raised, and quite a commotion reigned for a time.
The ball in Love's hall was largely attended—the biggest crowd that has been seen at a ball here for many months. A number from the outside attended.
M. D. Nixon, for the past twenty years proprietor of the American Exchange hotel in Sutter Creek, left yesterday for San Francisco to remain. He has purchased the Grand Pacific hotel on Ellis street, between Powell and Mason, and will give that hotel his personal attention. He will retain the ownership of the American Exchange and Sutter hotels, but Mrs. Nixon will be in charge. Former supervisor Edward B. SHENANDOAH VALLEY.

July 3.—Bessie, the young daughter of J. F. Brumfield of this place, was the victim of a vicious attack by a stray steer on Tuesday of last week, and escaped a terrible death by the narrowest margin. The young girl was crossing the road between the dwelling house and the barn, when the animal charged her. Two or three deep wounds were inflicted in her side and chest, just missing the vital organs. She was also severely bruised on her left side and arm. She has been under the care of Dr. Peek of Plymouth, and is in a fair way to a speedy recovery from her fearful experience.

C. J. Votaw and daughter, Mrs Fred Yager, were called to Forest Home last week by the critical illness of their cousin, John A. Votaw.

N. B. Shilling, who died suddenly of heart failure in San Francisco, with his brother Joseph Schilling, was the owner of the old Williams place in this valley, and had many friends here who deeply regret his untimely death. The family has the utmost sympathy of all in this double bereavement.

Robert Davis is now able to be out of the house for the first time in nearly two months, and his complete recovery is only a matter of time.

Mrs Alice Moore and Little Son, have returned to San Francisco, after a few weeks' visit to relatives in the valley and other parts of the county.

Robert Loree of Los Angeles, is visiting his grandparents, Mr and Mrs Robert Brown in the valley. His father, Prof. Warren Loree, who taught this school and some others in the county about twenty years ago, is now principal of the high school at Long Beach, with nineteen or twenty assistant teachers.

Superstitious.

A well known New Yorker, while dining at his club one evening, observed that his order of oysters on the shell was not complete, there being only eleven bivalves instead of the dozen it was his custom to order. On reflecting that his waiter, an Irishman, was a newcomer, he decided to let the matter pass, but when on the next evening the same thing occurred he became a trifle impatient.

"See here," exclaimed he to the waiter, "what do you mean by bringing me eleven oysters when I order twelve? This is the second time that this thing has happened."

"Sure, sir," quietly responded the Celt, "I didn't think you would want to risk being thirteen at table, sir."

When Life is Wasted.

Life is wasted every time one gives away to gloomy, selfish angry or revengeful thoughts; when resentment or a grudge against man or fate is allowed to find root in the heart; when the temper is let fly loose over a trifle; when one goes to pieces nervously when obliged to repeat a remark and the voice is allowed to rise in anger; when one forgets that a loose temper is a sign of vulgarity and lack of culture.—Philadelphia Press.

Julius Caesar.

The consensus of learned opinion is to the effect that history's all around greatest man was Julius Caesar, the originator of Roman imperialism. Caesar was great as a general and great as a writer and speaker, but greater as a statesman. Could he have been spared the assassin's dagger and been permitted to live ten years longer he might have set civilization ahead a full thousand years.—New York American.

Postmaster Duden has been given an additional allowance of $5 per month for clerk hire. When he took the office the allowance for clerk was $20 per month. This was afterwards increased to $25, and now it is $30 per month. The business of the office in the sale of stamps has kept abreast of previous year. The post office business of the county seat shows no falling off.

Died Suddenly.

Nicholas B. Schilling, who left Oleta some months ago to work as a teamster in the debris removing operations in San Francisco, died very suddenly in that city last Saturday. No definite details of the circumstances have reached us. One report was that he was killed by a falling wall. Another was to the effect that he was taken ill while descending the stairway of his lodging house preparator to going to his daily employment, and died within half an hour thereafter, supposedly from heart failure. This is probably the correct version. The remains were shipped to this county last Sunday. His brother Joseph and another met the train at Carbondale, and conveyed the body of deceased to his former home in Oleta. The funeral took place last Tuesday interment in the Oleta cemetery.

At the Argonaut mine, early this week, a miner named B. Ross had his right leg fractured by a falling rock. He is being attended at his home by Dr. Phillips.

Dr. C. A. Herrick, who has been practicing his profession of dentistry in this city for nearly twenty years, has sold his business and office fixtures and instruments to Drs. J. D. Fogarty and Dr. L. Martin, both graduates in dentistry, and who have had considerable experience. The new dentists assumed charge of the office last Wednesday. Both are young men, energetic, and well posted in all the details of the profession. They will no doubt hold the large practice heretofore enjoyed by their predecessor, and expect to enlarge the circle of patrons. The Ledger extends a welcome to them. Dr. Herrick will remain here a few days to close up his business affairs. He will then leave for San Francisco, where he intends to open up an office.

WITH HOARDED WEALTH DIES IN HOSPITAL.

Robert Waddell, an aged Miser, of Plymouth Passes Away.

At the county hospital last Thursday there passed from all earthly scenes an eccentric and peculiar character in the person of Robert Waddell. He was 73 years of age, and a well known character around Plymouth and vicinity. In the years when Plymouth was in its prime, when the Plymouth Consolidated was turning out its golden treasures liberally, Waddell was employed, as night watchman. But with the shutdown of that great property he has been idle, except doing little odd jobs. He continued to live in the old town, occupying a small cabin alone, and attending to himself the best he could, until that fatal malady, Bright's disease, overtook him, and rapidly sapped the foundations of life.

He clung to his little home as long as he could, with the neighbors supplying him with food, etc., until the torments of disease rendered it impracticable to do so.

It was then decided to remove him to the county hospital. He had talked a good deal about his money, and what disposition he wished to make of it. From the way in which he lived, taking one meal a day at a restaurant, and complaining that he could not afford that, the neighbors were disinclined to take much stock in his claim to hidden wealth. He had a paper drawn up—in the nature of a testamentary disposition of his property—giving everything to his friend Morvin Leach.

This was signed by him in the presence of witnesses. He had nephews and nieces, it is said, in the southern part of the state, and a brother in the eastern states, but they figured not in the distribution.

Before leaving his cabin he was urged to reveal the hiding place of his hoarded gold. Finally, he told where his bank account was kept. He pointed to a spot in the floor, and behind a piece of wainscoting, where they would find a tin can containing $230 in gold coin. He was much of a misanthrope, had little faith in human nature generally, but there were three men in Plymouth in whom he was willing to trust. In the presence of G. W. Easton, Lawrence Burke and Mervin Leach, the boards were taken up, and there sure enough was a tin can, representing the accumulated savings of a lifetime. The money was all in gold coin. It was taken out and counted, and found to contain $2650.

Waddell, in the final stages of Bright's disease, was brought to the county hospital on Saturday, June 22. He was in a sadly neglected state. He died on Thursday morning, June 27.

It was his special request to be buried in the cemetery at Plymouth. So the same day H. E. Potter, the undertaker, came forward and removed the remains, and the funeral took place on Saturday last.

Deceased was a native of Ohio, 73 years of age. He had lived in this county for over thirty years. When received into the hospital he had about $12 on his person, and from this fund his expenses while in the hospital were paid.

Died from Typhoid Fever.

John A. Votaw, a well known resident of the northern section of the county, died at his ranch at Forest Home last Monday. He was taken down with typhoid fever only a few days before the fatal termination. He was a former resident of the vicinity of Oleta, but some two years ago he bought the ranch of K. F. Allen near Forest Home, since which time he made his home at that place. He leaves to mourn their loss a widow and four children, the widow being a sister of N. B. Schilling, whose sudden death in San Francisco last Saturday is recorded in this issue. The interment took place in the Oleta cemetery yesterday. Rev. Thomas Dermody of the Catholic church officiating.

Took Muriatic Acid.

The Sutter Creek Record says Miss Annie Davide on Thursday of last week, took a large dose of muriatic acid with suicidal intent. At the hour of going to press Dr. A. P. Griffin, the attending physician, could give little hope of the young lady's recovery. A trained nurse arrived from Stockton last Friday, and remained a few days to give skillful care during the most critical period in the efforts to save the lady's life under the instruction of the physician. The large quantity of acid taken into the stomach has caused that organ to fail to properly assimilate food and until that condition can be regained the chances of recovery must be uncertain, although the latest symptoms are considered favorable. The acid was taken during a spell of despondency, and the patient now very much regrets her rash act.
